Message from the Vicar

When I'm getting frustrated by attitudes or behaviours of others... (present readership excluded of course!) and I feel like pointing a finger in criticism, I find it helpful to remember that not only am I pointing a finger at another, but I am pointing three fingers back at myself.

Even if I am behaving in a 'better' way, it's probably because of my circumstances. Who's to say I wouldn't behave the same if my situation was different?

We need to remember this when we encounter others.

Jesus was probably the only person who wouldn't have behaved differently in a certain circumstance, even Jesus doesn't stoop to the judgemental levels of the Pharisees as we see in many Bible stories, like in Luke 7.36-8.3 where Simon the Pharisee judges a woman with a bad reputation, but also where the Pharisee criticises the Tax Collector in the Temple (Luke 18.9-14).

So often when we think we have it all right and no one else does, we find God accepting the broken offerings of those we are condemning. I may know what I feel to be right and wrong, but I thank God I am not the judge of who God loves and accepts.

How can this attitude shine out in how we welcome people to church?

And when we do see something we think should be challenged or changed, I suggest WE BECOME the change we wish to see.
