The Rev's Ramblings

How many times have you said "I wish I knew about that" or "You should have told me"?
How many times was the information right there in front of your face or that you had been told but it hadn't registered in your awareness?
I confess to this being a regular occurrence in my personal experience. I must go around with my eyes shut sometimes, and if I miss something, I always want to blame everyone else for not making the poster bright enough or putting the information in the wrong place or not making sure I heard.
Can you relate?

I suppose doctors' warnings are the same, or warnings about environmental and climate change. We will say "Well why didn't you make it obvious?"

In the story that Jesus told about a beggar called Lazarus (not the man Jesus brought back from the dead) and a rich man, both die and whilst Lazarus was blessed in Heaven, the rich man was tormented in Hell. The rich man pleads that someone goes to warn his family to change their ways before they die, but the answer was that even if someone returned from the dead to warn them they wouldn't believe and change.

We may hear all the Good News of Jesus, but do we let it sink into our lives and change us?
How good are we at responding to warnings, or do we blind ourselves with pride or misplaced confidence?

Please God, held us RESPOND to your call.

Prayer focus this week
